2005 Scholar's Bookshelf reprint edition. A still unreplaced work in American naval history, this 1899 study (dedicated to Theodore Roosevelt, ""Pioneer of the Modern School of Naval Writers"" ) remains the most comprehensive study of the role of the early privateers in the establishment of the American navy and their support of naval operations against Britain. The work traces the history of colonial privateering, its special dangers, and the roles of such figures as Truxtun, Porter, Biddle, Decatur, Perry, as well as such leading privateers as Silas Talbot, Jonathan Haraden, Solon Drowne, Thomas Boyle, and many others in early national privateering and navy building. 519 pages, illustrated.
